

2021 Board Member Nominee

Tucker Gordon

Tucker began as a lifelong visitor to the Mount Washington Valley, spending summers and weekends at his family's home in Fryeburg. He moved here full time after graduating from Johns Hopkins University in 2016 with a B.A in Earth & Planetary Science.

For many summers during high school and college, and for two years after graduation, Tucker worked at Weston's Farm, helping his great-aunt and uncle continue the longtime family farm. Following his time at Weston's, Tucker moved on to help manage the farm at the Thompson

House Eatery in Jackson. In 2018 Tucker joined the team at HEB Engineers, Inc. where he works as an Environmental Specialist.

Besides his family ties to the region, Tucker was drawn to live here by the ample outdoor recreational opportunities the area provides. He is an avid skier, mountain biker, hiker, and enjoys anything that involves time spent outdoors. He currently lives in Intervale with his fiancé Maika and their two dogs Emmy and Sawyer.

Tucker has been passionate about land conservation for as long as he can remember. In addition to the intrinsic value that conserved lands provide the region; Tucker is a firm believer in the environmental benefits that these areas provide for the area, and he appreciates the recreation opportunities that they provide.
